Third Generation Lansing Contractor To Chair Leading Construction Association

Detroit, Mich., February 28, 2022 – The Associated General Contractors (AGC) of Michigan today elected Sam Clark, President/CEO of Lansing-based Clark Construction Company as chairman of the association’s board of directors. AGC is Michigan’s leading full-service association for commercial building construction firms.

“I am honored and humbled to help lead this great association over the next year,” said Sam Clark. “As an AGC member for nearly 75 years, Clark Construction has partnered successfully with the association since its founding. As the nation’s and Michigan’s leading construction association, we have benefitted greatly from AGC membership and I represent the third generation in my family to serve with this honor.”

Mr. Clark is a 25-year veteran in construction, joining the company after serving in the U.S. Army and then graduating from Northern Michigan University with a B.S. in construction management. Mr. Clark is active in his community and lives with his family in East Lansing.

Serving alongside Mr. Clark as 2022 officers of the AGC of Michigan are vice chairman Dennis Carignan of Granger Construction Company in Lansing, and treasurer Jeff Baxa of Barton Malow Company in Southfield.
